DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election without traverse of Group II in the reply filed on June 08, 2009 is acknowledged.

Claim Objections

2. Claims 53 and 57 are objected to because of the following informalities:

Claims 53 and 57 are depended on a withdrawn claim 51. The Examiner will consider that claim 53 and 57 depends on claim 52 until clarified by the applicant. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claims 30, 37, and 57 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Cremon et al. (US 6802659)(Hereinafter referred to as 'Cremon').

Re claim 30: Cremon teaches a roll of material (8) used for printing serving as an image receiving tape, a RFID tag (7) holding a parameter information identifying at least one template for printing a label on the tape by transferring configurable operating parameters, and the RFID tag transmit information contactlessly via electromagnetic waves (see figs. 1-13; Abstract; col. 4, line 30-col. 11, line 46).

Re claim 37, 57: The RFID tag includes thermal transfer information (col. 8, lines 7-23) for setting thermal printer properly and monitoring the remaining number of rolls in a roll (col. 10, lines 39-52).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 32-35, 39-43, 52-55, and 57 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Cremon.

Although, Cremon teaches the roll of material having the RFID tag to transmit the parameter information and the status of roll (e.g., remaining number of rolls), he fairly suggest that the roll comprising preformed/marks and the tag transmit the message to display on the printer.

However, it would have been an obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to utilize the teachings of Cremon to set the printer properly with parameters information stored in the RFID tag according to the type of the rolls such as a preformed/marks. Moreover, such modification (i.e., displaying message in the printer such as status of roll, contact information for replacement, etc) would provide a user friendly system wherein the operator can replace the roll for minimizing down time.
